VANCOUVER WRITERS FEST The Vancouver Writers Fest (VWF or the Organization) is a not-for-profit registered charitable organization based in Vancouver. Operating from our home on Granville Island, the Vancouver Writers Fest programs year-round events and our flagship, annual week-long literary festival – one of the largest, and most prestigious in North America that attracts audience members to see events with local and international authors.

Governance Model

The Festival is governed by a Board of Directors who share a commitment to an inclusive, just, and decolonized society aligned with our vision of a world in which the transformative power of books and ideas is the foundation of an empathetic, inspired and just society. The Board works collaboratively with an experienced and engaged senior leadership team comprised of Artistic Director, Leslie Hurtig, and an Executive Director. The Artistic Director and Executive Director have a peer relationship and both report to the Board of Directors. The Board focuses on strong, equitable and inclusive governance in the areas of strategy, financial excellence, and diverse and inclusive audience development.

The Board of Directors has paved the way for a fiscally stable, equitable, transparent and responsible organization. Progress towards and achievement of outcomes outlined in the strategic plan is monitored quarterly. Specific Board committees are in place and have clearly defined Terms of Reference and meet on a monthly or bimonthly basis. The Committees include the Finance Committee, the Nominating Committee, the Human Resources Committee, the Fundraising Committee, the Equity and Justice Committee, and the Governance Committee.
